DARWINISM AND DESIGN.

DARWINISM AND DESIGN;

OR,

CREATION BY EEVOLUTION.

BY

GEORGE ST CLAIR,

F.G.S., M.A.I., &c.

LONDON:
HODDER AND STOUGHTON,
PATERNOSTER ROW.

1873.

Revised 1875

22.432

"I feel profoundly convinced that the argument of Design has been greatly too much lost sight of in recent zoological speculations."—Sir W. THOMSON: Address to Brit. Assoc., 1871.

"It is necessary to remember that there is a wider Teleology, which is not touched by the doctrine of Evolution, but is actually based upon the fundamental proposition of Evolution."—Prof. HUXLEY: Asiatick, Oct. 1880.

"Indeed, it is perhaps not too much to say that the more fully this conception of universal Evolution is grasped, the more firmly a scientific doctrine of Providence will be established, and the stronger will be the presumption of a future progress."—LECKY: History of Rationalism, vol. i, p. 317.

"——— I see in part
That all, as in some piece of art,
Is toil co-operant to an end."

—THOMSON: In Memoriam.
