PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.

LONDON LIBRARY.

THIS small collection of Parliamentary Papers had for its nucleus some 300 volumes presented by the late Lord Langdale, Master of the Rolls, shortly after the foundation of the Library.

During recent years many of the more important publications have been added by purchase.

In this list the Official titles of the Papers have been followed, but many entries have been repeated under general subject headings. A few cross-references have also been added; but these do not pretend to be exhaustive.

The figures within square brackets are the numbers of the volumes as bound by the Library; those within parentheses are the Official numbers of the separate Papers. A "c" marks all "Command Papers."
