

FOUR MONTHS AMONG THE GOLD-FINDERS IN ALTA CALIFORNIA

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649023615

Four Months Among the Gold-finders in Alta California by J. Tyrwhitt Brooks

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

J. TYRWHITT BROOKS

FOUR MONTHS AMONG THE GOLD-FINDERS IN ALTA CALIFORNIA

FOUR MONTHS
AMONG THE GOLD-FINDERS IN CALIFORNIA ;

BRING
THE DIARY OF AN EXPEDITION FROM SAN FRANCISCO
TO THE GOLD DISTRICTS.

BY
J. TYRWHITT BROOKS, M. D. pseud.

NEW-YORK :
D. APPLETON & COMPANY, 200 BROADWAY.

PHILADELPHIA :
GEO. S. APPLETON, 164 CHESNUT-STREET.

M. DCCC. XLIX.

70

✓

28'

13'

Checked
May 1913

PREFACE.

THE accompanying diary—some interesting circumstances connected with which will be found in the letter which commences the present volume—was sent home by the Author merely for the entertainment of the members of his own family and a few private friends. It has been submitted to the public in the hope that, as an authentic record of a variety of interesting particulars connected with the original discovery and present condition of the Gold Districts of California, it will not fail to prove acceptable.

London, 1840.

CONTENTS.

Letter from the Author to his Brother in England 13—16

CHAPTER I.

Clearing the Faranollas—Making the entrance to the Bay of San Francisco—The passage through the Strait—Appearance of the Bay—Town of San Francisco—The anchor is let go—The Author goes on shore—His bad luck—Sweeting's Hotel—The Author and Mr. Malcolm propose visiting the American settlements—They become acquainted with Captain Fulson and Mr. Bradley—Object of the Author's visit to California—Mr. M'Phail leaves for Sonoma—The houses of San Francisco, and their inhabitants—Native Californians—Senoritas and cigarettos 17—18

CHAPTER II.

Start for Monterey—Horse equipments in California—The advantages of them—Rifles and Ruffians—Californian scenery—Immense herds of cattle—Mission of Santa Clara—Pueblo of San José—A Californian farmhouse—What it is like inside and out—Prolific crops of wheat—Saddle-sickness—The journey is resumed—Mission of San José—Arrival at Monterey—The Author's visit to Col. Mason—Surgeons not wanted in California—Rumors of gold being found on the Sacramento—Characteristics of Monterey—Don Luis Palo and his sisters—What all Californian dinners consist of—The party returns to San Francisco 18—21

CHAPTER III.

An arrival at San Francisco from the gold district—Captain Fulson intends visiting the mine—The first Alcalde and others examine the gold—Parties made up for the diggings—Newspaper reports—The Government officers propose taking possession of the mine—The Author and his friends decide to visit the Sacramento Valley—A horse is bought—Increase of the gold excitement—Work-people strike work and prepare to move off—Lawyers, storekeepers, and others follow their example—The Author's journey delayed—Ten dollars a-day for a negro-waiter—Waiting for a saddler—Don Luis Palo arrives from Monterey on his way to the mines—The report of the Government taking possession of the mines contradicted—Desertion of part of the Monterey garrison—Rumored extent of the mines—The Author and his friends agree to go in company—Return of M'Phail—Preparations for the journey—"Gone to the diggings" 21—24

CHAPTER IV.

The party leave San Francisco—Cross to Sausalito with horses and baggage—Appearance of the cavalcade—José's method of managing horses—Character of the country passed through—Stay at Sonoma for the night—A Yankee hotel-keeper's notion—The author meets with Lieutenant Sherman—Receives from him a letter of introduction to Captain Sutter—Napper Valley—Sleep at the house of a settler—Troublesome bed-fellows—Wild-looking Scenery—Bradley is injured by a fall from his horse—Difficulties in the way of pitching a tent—A hint to the bears—Supper and bed—Resume the journey—Sacramento Valley—Elk and wild fowl—A long halt—A hunting party—A missing shot 24—26

CHAPTER V.

Encampment for the night—Symptoms of neighbors not far off—Reach the Sacramento River—Sutter's Fort—Captain Sutter—His offer of accommodation—Various matters to be seen to—A walk through the Fort—Desertion of the guard to the "diggings"—Work and whisky—Indians and their bargains—A chief's effort to look like a civilized being—Yankee traders—Indians and trappers—"Beats beaver skins"—Death to the weakest—A regular Spanish Don and his servant—Captain Sutter a Swiss Guard—His prejudice in favor of "constituted authorities" 26—29

CHAPTER VI.

The journey delayed—A walk to the camp—A list of wants—Captain Sutter's account of the first settlement in California—How he served the Indians, and how he civilized them—Breakfast—Captain Sutter's wife and daughter—Ridiculous stories about the discovery of the gold mines—Joe Smith's prophecy—An Indian ghost—Something about a ship-load of rifles 30—31

CHAPTER VII.

Captain Sutter's account of the first discovery of the gold—His surprise at Mr. Marshall's appearance at the Fort—Mr. Marshall's statement—The mill-wheel thrown out of gear—The water-channel enlarged—Mr. Marshall's attention attracted by some glittering substance—Finds it to be gold—First imagines it to have been buried there—Discovers it in great abundance—Takes horse to Sutter's Fort—Captain Sutter and Mr. Marshall agree to keep the matter secret—They start off to the mill—Proceed up the Fork—Find the gold in great abundance—Return to the mill—The work-people meet them—A knowing Indian and a sly Kentuckian—A laboring party organized—Digging and washing for gold—The news spreads—People flock to the diggings—Arrival of Mormons—The gold found to be inexhaustible—Men of science as blind as the rest of the world 31—34

CHAPTER VIII.

The Author and his friends leave Sutter's Fort—Tents in the bottom—A caravan in motion—Green hills and valleys—Indian villages—California pack-horses—A sailor on horseback—Lunch at noon—A troublesome beast—Sierra Nevada—First view of the lower mines—How the gold is dug and washed—The "cradle"—The diggers and their stock of gold—A store in course of construction—The tent is pitched—The golden itch—First attempts at gold-finding—A hole in the Saucepan—Sound asleep 34—38

CHAPTER IX.

Two horses stray away—How orders were enforced at the diggings—Sunday work—Nature of the soil—Inconveniences even in gold getting—Dinner and rest—A strike for higher wages—A walk through the diggings—Sleeping and smoking—Indians and finery—Californians and Yankees—Runaway sailors and stray negroes—A native-born Kentuckian—"That's a fact"—A chapel at the diggings—A supper with an appetite 38—40

CHAPTER X.

Digging and washing, with a few reflections—A cradle in contemplation—Scales to sell, but none to lend—Stock of gold weighed—More arrivals—Two new-comers—Mr. Biggs and Mr. Lacosse—Good order prevails at the mines—Timber bought for the cradles—The cradles made—The cradles worked—The result of the first day's trial 41—44

CHAPTER XI.

The proceedings of the week—Visit from Mr. Larkin—What will the Government do?—What "enough" is—San Francisco—Houses and ships deserted—A captain and ship without a crew—A ship without a crew or captain—Wages, newspapers, and shovels—The Attorney-General to the King of the Sandwich Islands—Something for the lawyers—Gold-diggers by moonlight—Mr. Larkin's departure—Provisions run short—Seek a supply at Sutter's—Good luck—Diggings' law—Provisions arrive—A wagon wanted—Arrival of Californians and their families—Gay dresses and coquettish manners—Fandangoes—El Jarabe—The waltz—Lookers-on and dancers—Coffee, and something stronger—No more Sunday work—José and the saints—The Virgin Mary cheated—Contemplated migration 44—49

CHAPTER XII.

The party leave the Mormon diggings—Cradles sold by auction—Laughter and biddings—The wagon sent back—The route to the saw-mills—A horse in danger—A miss at a Koyott—An antelope hit—Mr. Marshall—Venison steaks for supper—The saw-mills—Indians at work—Acorn bread—Where the gold was—How it was got—Gentlemen and horse—New-comers—"Yankee Doodle" and the "Star Spangled Banner" 49—52

CHAPTER XIII.

The party again shift their quarters—The river forded—Horry in the water—Mr. Sinclair's party of Indians—Deserted Indian villages—Weber's Creek—A halt made—Cradles hollowed out—A commotion in the camp—Col. Mason arrives on a tour of inspection—His opinions as to what Congress should do—Military deserters, and what ought to be done with them—Return of Col. Mason's party to Sutter's Fort—Bradley accompanies it with a stock of gold—How the gold was packed, and what precautions were taken for its security 52—56

CHAPTER XIV.

Smoking and sleeping—Fever, and how caused—Bradley returns—A doctor wanted—A doctor's fee at the mines—Medicine scarce—A hot air bath and a cold water bath—Indians engaged to work—Indian thimble-rigging—An Indian gamester, and the stake he plays for—More sickness—Mormons move off—A drunken dance by Indians—An Indian song about the yellow earth and the fleet rifle—An immodest dance by Indian women 56—58