

PRINCIPLES & METHODS OF
UNIVERSITY REFORM: BEING
A LETTER ADDRESSED TO THE
UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649276622

Principles & methods of university reform: being a letter addressed to the University of Oxford
by George Nathaniel Curzon

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

GEORGE NATHANIEL CURZON

PRINCIPLES & METHODS OF
UNIVERSITY REFORM: BEING
A LETTER ADDRESSED TO THE
UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Principles & Methods of University Reform

Being a Letter
Addressed to the University of Oxford

By .

Lord Curzon of Kedleston

Chancellor of the University

Oxford
At the Clarendon Press
1909

Henry Frowde, M.A.
Publisher to the University of Oxford
London, Edinburgh, New York
Toronto and Melbourne

CONTENTS

LETTER TO THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

	PAGE
Debate in House of Lords, July, 1907—Reasons against a Royal Commission—Position and functions of the Chancellor—Sources of information—Purpose of Memorandum	9

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

Object of University reformers—Previous Commissions—No finality in their work—Greater facilities for change—Reform already begun—Subjects of inquiry	15
--	----

CHAPTER II

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNIVERSITY

Objects of Constitutional reform—Existing Constitution of the University—The Hebdomadal Council—Analogy to a Cabinet—Criticisms upon the three orders—Proposals for their abolition—Other suggestions—Necessity for greater administrative control—Congregation—Proposals of Commission of 1850—Act of 1854—Origin of residential qualification—Its consequences—Proposal to restrict membership to University teachers and officers—Counter arguments—Other suggestions—Nature of legislative powers conceded to Congregation—Numbers of Convocation—Its functions—Its actual composition—Its meetings—General desire for some reform.

Various proposals: (1) Restriction of powers to educational matters—Opposite contentions—(2) Restriction of M.A. degree—Opposite arguments—(3) Expansion of Convocation—(4) The suspensory veto—Investigation urged

CHAPTER III

THE ADMISSION OF POOR MEN

	PAGE
Complaints about class-composition of Oxford University—The same question in 1850—Views and proposals of the Commission of 1850—Affiliated Halls, Independent Halls, Lodgings—Views of later reformers—Present aspect of problem—Claims of the well-to-do as well as the poor—Duty of Oxford to the leisured classes—Standard of living—Duty of Oxford to the poor—Different classes of the poor—The Working-Classes—Nature of their appeal to Oxford—The University's reply—Opportunities provided by Oxford—The Non-Collegiate system—Its advantages and cost—Impediments and drawbacks—Desirability of greater encouragement—History of University Extension—Alleged failure to reach the industrial classes—Proposals of Working-Class Education Committee—Artisan students at the University—Ruskin College—Character of tuition—Connexion with the University—Admission of working-men to ordinary Colleges—Hostels—Public and Private Halls—Suggestion of a Working-men's or Poor men's College—Its courses, tuition, and mode of life—Appeal to an outside benefactor—The poor of other classes—The schools from which they come—Endowments for these classes—The poor clergy—Teachers in Elementary and Secondary schools—Alleged obstacles in Oxford system—Cost of living in Colleges—General average—Proposals for reduction—Suggested Conference of Bursars—University and College Fees and Dues—Suggested reduction—Opposite school of thought—Information Bureau	42

CHAPTER IV

SCHOLARSHIPS AND EXHIBITIONS—FELLOWSHIPS

History of Scholarships and Exhibitions—Changes made in 1877-1882—University Scholarships—Distribution of College Scholarships and Exhibitions—Predominance of the Classics—Close or local Scholarships and Exhibitions—Their number and nature—Total value of Scholarships and Exhibitions—St. Edmund Hall—Scholar's dress—Limitation to poor schools and poor men—Table of Scholarships and Exhibitions held by the poor—Criticisms of the system: (1) That it is not sufficiently eleemosynary—Actual facts—Ought Scholarships to be subsidies or prizes?—Proposals to destroy prize character—To revive close Scholarship system—

	PAGE
To make Scholarships honorary—To surrender the endowment— (2) That the system promotes an unhealthy rivalry between Schools and Colleges—Nature of this competition—Suggested pooling of Scholarships—Objections—Excessive number of Classi- cal Scholarships—Date of Examinations—Suggested inquiry into redistribution of Scholarships and Exhibitions—Subjects for which more Scholarships are required—Possible forms of proce- dure—Fellowships—History and changes—Commission of 1877- 1882—Prize Fellowships—Total number of Fellows—Their re- ceipts—Arguments against Prize Fellowships—Their numbers and distribution—All Souls College—Connexion between Oxford and the world—Duration of Fellowship and question of re-election— Suggested allocation of Fellowships on a definite plan—Modifi- cations in Prize Fellowships	76

CHAPTER V

UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS

RESPONSIONS—UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE EXAMINATION—THE PASS-MAN—PASS-SCHOOLS

Compulsory Greek in Responcions—Existing practice—Nature of test—Classes whom it deters—Attitude of public opinion—Quality of the examination—Place of Greek in humanistic learning—
Effect of abolition upon Public Schools—Proposed abolition—Abortive attempts—Possible reforms—Suggested abolition of Responcions—Absence of any University Entrance Examination —College Entrance Examinations—Proposals of Commission of 1850—Their answer to objections—Changes since 1850—Available machinery—Plea for a scientific plan of School-leaving and University Entrance Examination—Advantages of such a scheme—Its possible extension to other professions—Need for University Entrance Examination in special cases—Possible objections to above plan—The minimum required—Penalties for misconduct or indolence—Proposed action of the University—
Arguments pro and con—The Pass-man—His merits and defects
—Duty of the University towards him—Desirability of improving the Pass-Schools—A Business course 101

CHAPTER VI

RELATIONS OF THE COLLEGES AND THE UNIVERSITY—
ORGANIZATION OF TEACHING

PAGE

History of the question--Strengthening of the University position--Alleged domination of the Colleges--Nature of the modern complaint--The Tutorial system at Oxford--No real antagonism between the Colleges and the University--Limitation of grievance--The Boards of Faculties--Application of the term--Number of Faculties and Boards--Constitution of Boards of Faculties--Their functions and powers--Boards of Studies--Criticisms of the Boards of Faculties--Statutory power of reconstitution--Excessive regard to examinations--Imperfect control of University lectures--Especially in Literae Humaniores--Three schools of reformers: (1) Suggested use of existing powers--Delegation to a Committee--(2) Suggested creation of class of University lecturers--Question of payment--Inherent difficulties--Future risks--Form of College contribution--Proposed Central Board or Council of Faculties--(3) Suggested absorption of Common University Fund--The Common University Fund in its educational aspect--Drawbacks to proposal--Suggested examination of the entire subject--Reorganization of Studies and Examinations--Power of altering College Statutes--More safeguards required . . . 120

CHAPTER VII

REVENUE, EXPENDITURE, AND FINANCIAL ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNIVERSITY

Form of published Accounts--Gross Revenue of the University--Net Revenue--Additional resources--College contributions--Poverty of the University--Gross Revenue of the Colleges--Net Revenue--Principal items of College expenditure--Incompleteness of the Accounts--Other defects--Accounts of University Institutions--Accounts of College contributions to the University--Obscurity of existing summary--Charges of inadequate College contributions--Present scale--Its alleged inadequacy--Improving position of the Colleges--Lack of system in present method of contributions--Power of the Visitor--Claims of College autonomy--Suggested reforms--Consideration of the question urged--

Contents

7

PAGE

Apparent anomalies in College financial administration—Expenditure on repairs and improvements—Internal expenditure—Diversity of scales—No outside check—Administration of College estates—Proposals of reformers: (1) Sale of University and College property—(2) Transfer to Official Commissioners—Reasons against this proposal—Drawbacks of the present system—Need of external control—Financial machinery of the University—The University Chest—The Common University Fund—As a financial body—Relations of the Common Fund and the Chest—The University Press—Financial policy of the University—The existing system—Its anomalies—Need of a Finance Office—Suggested Board of Finance—Its possible functions—Its constitution—Its relation to the Chest and the Common Fund—Its powers—Importance of financial reform	141
---	-----

CHAPTER VIII

EXECUTIVE MACHINERY OF UNIVERSITY GOVERNMENT

The existing machinery—The Vice-Chancellor—Method of nomination—His duties—Suggested changes—The University staff—The Registrar—The Assistant Registrar—The Secretary to the Curators of the Chest—Absence of a University Secretariat—The Proctors—Devolution of work of Council—Insufficient centralization	172
---	-----

CHAPTER IX

ENCOURAGEMENT OF RESEARCH

Complaints of lack of encouragement—Origin of interest in the matter—Functions of advanced study and Research—Duty of the University—Existing facilities—Fellowships and Scholarships—Prizes—Diplomas—B.C.L. degree—New degrees—The History School—Libraries and seminars—Laboratories—Original work now being done—Publications of the Press—Great advance—A University policy of Research—Co-operation of the Colleges—Encouragement to students	179
--	-----