THE ADVENTURES OF TOD, WITH AND WITHOUT BETTY

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

A KING'S DAUGHTER.

Crown 8vo, Cloth, Second Edition, 6s.

"The book is good and refined; there is no drag about it; and it will furnish a pleasant day's reading."—Athenæum.

"There is no nonsense and no vulgarity in it. It is a book which will be read with pleasure and approval by all."—Guardian.

"It is not often that we read a prettier, wholesomer or more winning novel. It is a book with a sweet, fresh atmosphere which it is pleasant to inhale."—Spectator.

"The whole book is excellently bright and interesting, strongly contrasted characters and incidents which influence the lives of men and women being plentifully provided, while the dialogue is natural and the style unskilled, but thoroughly effective throughout."—Court Journal.

"A delightful story and sure to have a long life."—Liverpool Post.

"Deserves to be widely known and carefully read."—Y. M. Christian Magazine.

FOR THE LIFE OF OTHERS.

Crown 8vo, Cloth, Second Edition, 6s.

"The book is essentially a masterpiece. We unhesitatingly stamp it as the best novel that has appeared since the Spring."—Book Gazette.

"Mr. Cardella has the incommunicable gift of flowing narration. He manages too to interest us in his characters. The story is interesting, and one has every sympathy with the generous purpose which clearly inspires Mr. Cardella no less than his heroine."—Literature.

"A deeply interesting and stimulating work. A work of exceptional merit and originality."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"For a long time there has issued from the press nothing in our creative literature more perfect in its way."—Birmingham Post.

"Her ideal is high, her aim is pure, and her method is excellent."—Guardian.

"Here is a woman who can tell a story dramatically, who has a strong touch of the poetic and mystic, who astonishes you every now and then with her beauty of expression, and makes the most excellent 'quotes' which help her out without throwing her own style into painful contrast."—Saturday Review.
