

THE LEGAL STATUS OF RURAL HIGH
SCHOOLS IN THE UNITED STATES, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO
THE METHODS EMPLOYED IN
EXTENDING STATE AID TO SECONDARY
EDUCATION IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649211630

The legal status of rural high schools in the United States, with special reference to the methods employed in extending state aid to secondary education in rural communities by Edwin R. Snyder

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

EDWIN R. SNYDER

THE LEGAL STATUS OF RURAL HIGH
SCHOOLS IN THE UNITED STATES, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO
THE METHODS EMPLOYED IN
EXTENDING STATE AID TO SECONDARY
EDUCATION IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

educat.
Hist.

THE LEGAL STATUS
OF
RURAL HIGH SCHOOLS
IN THE
UNITED STATES

With Special Reference to the Methods Employed in Extending State Aid to Secondary Education in Rural Communities

BY

Edwin R. Snyder, Ph. D.

TEACHERS COLLEGE COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY,
CONTRIBUTIONS TO EDUCATION NO. 24

100 889
71 3 10

PUBLISHED BY
Teachers College, Columbia University
NEW YORK CITY
1909

Copyright, 1909,
By EDWIN R. SNYDER

PRESS OF BRANDOW PRINTING COMPANY
ALBANY, N. Y.

CONTENTS

The figures given below refer to pages.

---

CHAPTER I

THE PROBLEM AND THE METHOD EMPLOYED IN ITS SOLUTION

The purpose of the work. The problems involved. The methods employed.....3-5.

CHAPTER II

THE EXTENSION OF HIGH SCHOOL PRIVILEGES A PUBLIC NECESSITY

The general status of education in the United States. The break in our system at the end of the elementary school is not fundamental. A more thorough training necessary to meet the demands of the times. The influence of the high school upon social and educational conditions in rural communities. The rural high school as an institution to prepare teachers.....6-13.

CHAPTER III

STATE AID TO RURAL HIGH SCHOOLS A PUBLIC NEED AND DUTY

The state the most comprehensive unit for the administration and support of public education. One function of the state to raise the general standard of intelligence. The state can aid elementary education by securing establishment of high schools. State may only hinder community class differentiation through education. Secondary education necessary to improve agricultural conditions. A liberal training necessary for country youth. State only can equalize secondary educational opportunities. A wider field for the selection of leadership essential. State aid necessary to the poorer districts. The support of secondary and higher education has always been a state policy. Education cannot be pauperized. Wealth accumulated in certain regions may represent state resources.....14-25.

CHAPTER IV

UNITS OF ORGANIZATION AND COURSES OF STUDY FOR RURAL HIGH SCHOOLS

The evolution of the district high school. The union of districts,—advantages of same. The township unit of organization. The union of townships. The county unit of organization. Academies as secondary schools. Normal schools as secondary institutions. Courses of study for rural high schools,—types of, in Florida, Wisconsin, and Massachusetts.....26-36.

CHAPTER V

STATE AID TO HIGH SCHOOLS

- MAINE,—37-40: Early aid to high schools, 37. Early status of high schools 38. Law suspended and reinstated, 38. Later legislation and present legal status, 38. Growth and present status of high schools, 39. Special subsidies to academies, 40.
- WISCONSIN,—41-49: Early aid to high schools, 41. Provision for supervision, 42. Aid to township high schools, 42. Aid to manual training departments, 43. Change of law in aid of township high schools, 44. Local community may provide tuition, 44. Provision for aid to graded schools, 45. Consolidation and free transportation provided for, 47. State aid to county agricultural schools, 47. Development and status of rural high schools, 48.
- MINNESOTA,—49-55: Early aid to high schools, 49. Inspection provided for, 50. Aid to graded schools, 52. Increases in amount of subsidy, 54. Special aid for normal departments, 55. Consolidation and free transportation provided for, 55.

CHAPTER VI

STATE AID TO HIGH SCHOOLS

- NORTH DAKOTA,—56-58: Classification of high schools, 56. State aid to high schools, 56. Present status of rural high schools, 57.
- PENNSYLVANIA,—58-60: Aid to high schools, 58. Defects of the act, 59. Rural high school statistics, 59.
- FLORIDA,—60-61: State aid to high schools, 60. Influence of act, 61. Consolidation and transportation, 61.
- MASSACHUSETTS,—61-66: Compulsory local support, 61. Historical development of high schools and high school legislation, 62-64. State aid to rural secondary education by subsidy and reimbursed tuitions, 65. Only two teacher schools may receive aid, 65. Development and status of secondary education, 66.

CHAPTER VII

STATES THAT USE OTHER THAN THE DIRECT SUBSIDY PLAN IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF STATE AID TO HIGH SCHOOLS

- CALIFORNIA,—67-73: Early legislation and growth of high schools, 67. The part that the normal schools have played in secondary education, 68. "The grammar school course," and state aid to the same, 69. Provision for establishment of county high schools, 70. Growth of high schools, 1885 to 1902, 70. Constitutional change enabling state to aid secondary education, 70. State aid to high schools, 70. Result of act, 73.
- NEW YORK,—73-78: State aid to union free high schools, 74. The literature fund and its apportionment, 74. Aid from the common school fund, 74. State provides tuition, 75. Special aid for normal departments, 75. History of development of literature fund, 75.

- Development of high schools, 76. Apportionment of funds to secondary schools, 76. Apportionment for free tuition, 78.
- RHODE ISLAND,—78-79: State aid to secondary education, 78. Consolidation and transportation of pupils, 79.
- WASHINGTON,—79-80: Special state aid to high schools, 79. Some effects of the act, 80.

CHAPTER VIII

STATES THAT DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY PAY THE TUITION OF CERTAIN HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

- NEW HAMPSHIRE,—81-82: The state educational fund and its distribution, 81. The provision for reimbursing tuitions, 82.
- CONNECTICUT,—82-85: The provision for reimbursing tuitions, 82-83. Reimbursed free transportation, 83. Aid to libraries, 83. Statistics of tuitions reimbursed, 84. Status of secondary education, 84.
- DELAWARE,—85: Aid to all schools upon teacher basis. The provision for state payment of tuitions.
- VERMONT,—86-88: Summary of secondary educational opportunities offered, 86. The reimbursement of tuitions, 87. Tuition statistics, 87.

CHAPTER IX

STATES THAT LEGALIZE THE LOCAL PAYMENT OF HIGH SCHOOL TUITION

- INDIANA,—89-91: History of township high schools, 89. Free tuition, consolidation and free transportation, 90. Provision for county high schools, 90. High school statistics, 91.
- OHIO,—91-94: History of township high schools, 91. Free tuition, 92. Free transportation, 93. Development and status of high schools, 93. The state fund, 94.
- KANSAS,—94-95: County high schools, 94. Free tuition in counties, 95. Status of county high schools, 95.
- NEBRASKA,—96-98: Free tuition, 96. Provision for joint district high schools, 97. State aid to manual training department, 97. Status of secondary education, 98.
- MICHIGAN,—98-100: Union or graded schools, 98. Free tuition, 99. State aid to normal training schools, 100. County industrial schools, 100.
- IDAHO,—100.
- OREGON,—100-101.
- UTAH,—101.

CHAPTER X

- ILLINOIS,—102-105: Township high schools, 102. School funds, 103. Scholarships in normal schools, 104. Status of high schools, 105.
- IOWA,—105, 106: Legal status, condition of secondary education. township high schools, consolidation and transportation.
- NEW JERSEY,—106-109: No special provision for high schools, 106. Early development of system, 106. The state fund and its distribution, 107. County compelled to provide high schools, 109.

- COLORADO,—109-110: Legal status, school funds, status in state.
 SOUTH DAKOTA,—110-111.
 WYOMING,—111.
 ARIZONA,—111.
 MISSOURI,—111-112: Part of teacher's fund may be applied to secondary education. Classification and inspection. Consolidation. Present status.
 MONTANA,—112-113.
 NEVADA,—113.
 NEW MEXICO,—113.

CHAPTER XI

THE PRESENT LEGAL STATUS OF HIGH SCHOOLS IN THE SOUTH

- MARYLAND,—114-116: County high schools. State aid to manual training and industrial schools. State aid to high schools giving commercial courses. Scholarships. Counties receiving aid upon account of manual and industrial courses.
 VIRGINIA,—116-117: State aid. Inspection. Aid for normal training departments. Aid for industrial education.
 NORTH CAROLINA,—117-118: State aid to high schools. Tuitions reimbursed.
 SOUTH CAROLINA,—118-120: State aid to high schools. Inspection and classification. Free tuition. Effect of act.
 ALABAMA,—120-121: State aid to county high schools.
 TENNESSEE,—121-122: County high schools. Free tuition.
 TEXAS,—122: High schools a part of general system.
 WEST VIRGINIA,—122: High schools supported locally.
 KENTUCKY,—122-123: The graded schools.
 GEORGIA,—123: Locally supported.
 LOUISIANA,—123: Locally supported.
 MISSISSIPPI,—123.
 ARKANSAS,—123: No special provision.
 OKLAHOMA,—123: District and county.

CHAPTER XII

SOME HIGH SCHOOL STATISTICS AND THEIR PROBABLE MEANING

- Purpose, source, reliability, and arrangement of statistics, 124-127.
 Maine, Massachusetts and New Jersey, 128-129.
 California, Colorado and Washington, 130-131.
 Connecticut, Vermont, and New Hampshire, 132-133. Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, 134-135. Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, 136-137. Iowa, Missouri and Texas, 138-139. Kansas, Nebraska and Rhode Island, 140-141.
 Limiting factors that enter into growth of high schools and high school opportunities, 142-144. Steps in the evolution of the high school, 145-147.
 Interpretation and graphic presentation of statistics for: Maine, 147; Massachusetts, 148; New Jersey, 151; California, 154; Colorado, 156;

Washington, 158; Connecticut, 161; Vermont, 163; New Hampshire, 166; Michigan, 168; Wisconsin, 170; Minnesota, 171; Ohio, 174; Indiana, 176; Illinois, 178; Iowa, 179; Missouri, 181; Texas, 183; Kansas, 184; Nebraska, 186; Rhode Island, 188.

- The general development of secondary education in above states, 188.
 Statistical summary for twenty states, 191. Comparison of states that provided subsidies with those that provided no state aid, 190.
 Comparison of states that reimbursed tuitions with others, 193.
 Graphic presentation of development of secondary education in the two groups, 194.

CHAPTER XIII

STATE AID BY GRANTING SUBSIDIES AND BY REIMBURSING TUITIONS

- Purpose of the chapter. The Massachusetts act. A local school has some advantages. These may be overcome by financial interests. Detailed analysis of Table I. Statistics, 100-101. Present law granting state subsidy only partly affective. Inequalities worked by tuition law. Comparison of averages in two tables. Comparison with sixteen towns. Comparison with seven towns. Comparison with three towns. Condition not a recent one. General propositions demonstrated by statistics for Massachusetts. Does state desire to encourage the smaller high school?
- Legal provision for reimbursement of tuition and transportation expenditures in Connecticut. Aim of presentation of statistics. Basis of assembling statistics. Statistics of high schools expending less than $1,500 for maintenance. Statistics of fourteen towns that sent twenty or more pupils to non-local schools. Comparison of statistics in large and small groups, and in individual cases. Statistics prove that the law has worked injustice and has only been partially effective.....197-210.

CHAPTER XIV

THE VARIOUS METHODS EMPLOYED IN AID OF SECONDARY EDUCATION IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

- General methods employed. State aid in the following states: Minnesota, California, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Washington, Florida, Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, New Hampshire, Vermont, Delaware, Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island, North Carolina. The results of the working of the different schemes. The aim of the state in providing aid. A local school will increase the number of secondary pupils 60 to 75 per cent. The conditions under which each scheme of providing state aid should be put into operation. The factors which must be taken into consideration in apportioning state aid. A tentative scheme for the distribution of state aid to secondary education in rural communities.....211-225.