THE following Notes of the Tyrie Family are compiled and arranged by ANDREW TYRIE, and the historical authorities consulted for the same will be found at the end of the Notes. The Notes are not intended for the public eye; but should such fall into the hands of an outsider, I trust he will have the courtesy to remember that they are only intended for the race, and those interested in the families bearing the name.

PLATE I.

COAT ARMS OF TYRIE OF DRUMKILBO.

From Stodart's Scottish Arms.

SABLE, CHEVRON ARGENT, CHARGED WITH LION, AZURE,
BETWEEN TWO TORTRAUX, GULES.

THE signification of this plate (as I understand Ancient Heraldry) -Sable field denotes the most Ancient Families, and those who bear Sable are bound or obliged to relieve Widows, Orphans, Churchmen, and the learned that are under oppression. It also denotes Grief, Simplicity, Honesty, Wisdom, and Prudence. Leigh says that it also signifies Divine Doctrine, etc. The Chevron is an ordinary, formed of a twofold line, spirewise or pyramical. This ordinary is resembled to a pair of barge couples or rafters, and betokeneth the achieving of some business of moment, or the finishing of some chargeable or memorable work, such as the completion of a Great House, etc. The Chevron was given to such as supported their Prince, Country, Family, or Clan. The Lion was, by the ancients, and is to this day, regarded as the king of beasts, and therefore
