INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

THE Word-List here offered aims: 1. To fix attention on that portion of the Greek vocabulary which every student ought to have completely under control; this includes the ordinary Prose words and their most frequent compounds; only when needed to secure unity and completeness in a group has any poetical or uncommon word been admitted. 2. By arranging the words in such groups as the mind most readily forms and retains, and by adding derivative and cognate Latin and English words, to reduce to the minimum the task of learning and remembering them. The arrangement, proved by experience to be most advantageous, is to bring together: 1. words of common origin; 2. words closely associated by meaning.

In order that attention may be more completely concentrated on the Greek word and its English equivalent, all details as to part of speech or gender of substantive, have for the most part been omitted.

In requiring a class to learn the list, a good method is to hold a two-minute written examination on the number of pages assigned as a lesson. After the list has been quite thoroughly learned, it is well to take up the words as given in the index, that the student may be required to identify them in new combinations and different type.

Words in SMALL CAPITALS are English words derived from Greek.

Words in heavy faced type are cognate Latin words or their derivatives.

Words in italics are cognate English words of Anglo-Saxon origin.
