NOTE.

THIS volume is compiled to preserve in permanent form the sketches entitled

"WALKS IN OUR CHURCHYARDS," which, undertaken at our request, appeared in the Trinity Record during 1890-92.

FELIX OLDBOY'S work is too well known to require either preface or introduction. All who appreciate studies and recollections of Old New York will recall with pleasure how much his facile pen has done to rescue associations from oblivion, which otherwise would have been swept away with the structures with which they were connected.

It is well said that we cannot buy with gold these old associations. It therefore seems to us timely to place in permanent form these recollections of the past, which cling to the graves and tombstones in the churchyards of Trinity Parish.
