INTRODUCTORY NOTE

THE following essay was originally published in the form of a lecture ; and it was delivered to the members of that branch of the Evangelical Union which is established in Berlin.

The Union is a remarkable feature of the present state of religious life in modern Germany. It was founded in 1887 after the conclusion of the Kulturkampf, with the professed object of protecting the interests of Protestantism against the increasing power of the Roman Church. In that respect it bears some resemblance to certain
