PREFACE

IN the following pages I have endeavoured to show that the system of co-education is not suitable for boys and girls when they are maturing, as such training does not fully recognise the sex characteristics, and therefore the differences of their respective powers and subsequent development are not kept in view. Having had exceptional opportunities of inspecting some of the best boys' schools and girls' schools in this country, I am of opinion that the training which will meet all requirements can only be given by the separate education of

CHAPTER I.

CO-EDUCATION OF THE SEXES

SHEWING THAT BOYS AND GIRLS OUGHT NOT TO BE GIVEN IDENTICAL EDUCATION

A GREAT effort is now being made in certain educational circles to found in this country mixed schools for boys and girls, the result of which will be to abolish the present system of educating males and females separately, and to establish that of the co-education of the sexes. This method has been favourably commented
