PREFACE.

THE following poems are the first I have ever published, but they are only selections from many I have written.

I only venture to present these to the Public, after favourable opinions have been given privately respecting them by several well-known authors.

The Poems in the first part of the book are of a general, the latter of a more religious kind.

All the Poems will be seen, I trust, to have been dictated by a desire for truth and for right; and with a consciousness that I have, at least, striven to make my verses garments for just thought, I leave my little book in the hands of my friends and the public.

Sheffield,
November, 1869.
