HOW TO AVOID DEMAGNETISM.

Have I any magnetism? This question has been timidly and privately asked by thousands, and thousands more have longed to ask it.

It is not a foolish or an unimportant question. If there lives a person, which I strongly doubt, who does not care whether he is magnetic or not, he is not wise or philosophical. Prosperity, success, health and happiness are things to which every one has a right, and of which no one should allow himself to be defrauded. Magnetism is the master key which not only unlocks these things to man, but is also the sentinel which guards them and keeps them intact for him.

"What is the kingdom of heaven?" asked a Bible-class teacher. "Magnetism," replied a student, "for it draws all other things unto it."

We shall see that this seemingly irreverent reply was a perfectly legitimate statement. Divine magnetism (and all worthy magnetism is divine) is nothing less than the kingdom of heaven, and is to be coveted and sought for as such.

"Yes," sighed a woman, "magnetism is something I long for, but I haven't a bit, and it cannot be cultivated. I suppose I'm too honest and sincere to be called magnetic, but I work so hard scrubbing and sewing and cooking for my family that I get all worn out, and cannot help feeling
