The careful reader will detect several other errors, mostly in orthography and punctuation, but none, we believe, which will subvert or materially affect the meaning of the context. The publishers do not feel responsible for any imperfections in the work, as it did not come under their supervision whilst passing through the press.

DEDICATION.

TO ALBERT C. GREENE, ESQ.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF RHODE-ISLAND.

DEAR SIR,—Most of the persons whose Memoirs are contained in the present volume, were your predecessors in office. That fact alone would indicate the propriety of its dedication to you.

But that is not my only reason for inscribing it with your name; I do it also as a testimony of warm personal regard; and am happy that this opportunity is afforded me of paying, at the same time, a tribute to official worth and private friendship.

W. UPDIKE.
