"Our spirits are living bayonets. The ideals which we carry in our hearts are more deadly to the enemy than any man-made weapons."

FOREWORD

THESE selections from collected letters of CONINGSBY DAWSON have been edited by his sister, MURIEL DAWSON, and are published in response to hundreds of requests. Readers of his first volume of correspondence from the Front, issued under the title of "Khaki Courage," have written from all over the country asking that a further series be given them. The generous appreciation and personal interest expressed by these readers have induced Lieutenant CONINGSBY DAWSON's family to publish these letters. They take up his story at the point where "Khaki Courage" laid it down, at the time when America entered the war.
