Foreword

this work is released to the public and especially to the Leaders of the Twentieth Century of this Metropolis, a painstaking effort to make this volume of permanent value as being "written in light," which is the meaning of photography, with the efficiency of modern science, much beyond the hopes of the early inventors of the photographic art.

The literary story of those included, the advance guard and premiers among statesmen, lawyers, physicians, bankers, and merchants, in fine, the thinkers and doers who made New York the Proud Princess of Cities, would sound of the writers, but their likenesses, though silent, sound aloud with coducing fame, the character, purpose, and possibilities, of the hundreds portrayed herein.

So many biographics and autobiographics abound, narrating the deeds of the doors and their lives, that a much needed service was undertaken by the Unico News Service to supplement the written word with the living likeness, proclaiming at sight the force, stamina and worth of those whose daily acts we feel, and with whom we wish a more intimate acquaintance. Such a thesaurus or treasury is this volume of pictures of men and women of high calling and intent, and the portraying of the likenesses worthily is due to the creditable work of the principal photographers, Marceau, Otto Sarony Co. and Amie Dupont Studios, while the Eagle Photo-Engraving Company, Inc., has efficiently made the engraving plates, aided by a special departure in sepia printing, the craftsmanship of W. D. Gray, who too was entrusted with the binding of the finished product.

With such a work the producers are pleased and content with their achievement, a labor of pleasure and they hope of profit to the many who shall have access to it, to study and appreciate those defineated herein, to whom this book is dedicated by the publishers.
