

HISTORY OF WILLIAMSON
COUNTY, ILLINOIS: FROM
THE EARLIEST TIMES, DOWN
TO THE PRESENT, 1876

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649604876

History of Williamson County, Illinois: From the Earliest Times, down to the Present, 1876 by
Milo Erwin

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

MILO ERWIN

HISTORY OF WILLIAMSON
COUNTY, ILLINOIS: FROM
THE EARLIEST TIMES, DOWN
TO THE PRESENT, 1876

HISTORY
OF
WILLIAMSON COUNTY
ILLINOIS

From the Earliest Times, Down to the Present.

1876

With An Accurate Account of the Secession Movement, Ordinances, Raids, Etc., Also, a Complete History of its "Bloody Vendetta," Including All Its Re-condite Causes, Results, Etc., Etc.,

—BY—

MILO ERWIN

Attorney at Law

"Mine be the friend, less frequent in his prayers,
Who makes no bustle with his soul's affairs,
Whose wit can brighten up a wintry day,
And chase the splenetic dull hours away."

MARION, ILLINOIS

1876

33368

Copyrighted 1914 by
THE HERRIN NEWS
HERRIN, ILL.

971.3117

Erwin

1117

Williamson County, Tennessee

BY WAY OF EXPLANATION.

"Not to know what happened before we were born is to remain always a child; for what were the life of man did we not combine present events with the recollections of past ages?" This, said Cicero many ages ago. No community is without a history, and, few, it will be agreed by those of you fortunate enough to peruse the following pages, have to offer such an interesting history as this one written now nearly forty years ago of Williamson county. Its author, Milo Erwin, was, in his time, one of the county's most eminent lawyers. Many stories are told about the excitement the publication of this book caused. It is now republished for the first time, and with no other intention whatsoever than to enlighten the present generation of the turbulent period through which this community has passed. In behalf of the well known families connected with the terrible vendetta which is here related it should be said that they are now among the best families in the community and some of the persons named are counted at present, good citizens who have lived down all odium that once attached to their names. The fact that there has in recent years been a great demand for copies of this rare work of which now probably less than half a dozen copies are in existence has led us to republish it. Without claiming any credit whatever except that of preserving in a new edition this valuable portion of our county's interesting history, we have here reproduced the book practically word for word just as its author wrote it, even following as far as practical the general make up and style of typography. It is a piece of writing well done and as Charles Dickens would say, "our unhallowed hands shall not disturb it."

9 out of 13

HAL W. TROVILLON,

EDITOR OF THE NEWS,

December 1st, 1914.

Herrin, Illinois.

TO
WILLIAM WALLACE CLEMENS
MY FRIEND,
BECAUSE THE FRIEND OF MY COUNTRY
THIS VOLUME IS AFFECTIONATELY DEDICATED,
AS A SLIGHT MEMENTO OF THE EVER-INCREASING
REGARD I HAVE FOR HIS PUBLIC SPIRIT,
PRIVATE VIRTUES, AND SOLID
LEGAL ATTAINMENTS

THE AUTHOR.

Prefatory Address to the Young Men of Williamson County.

GENTLEMEN:

I have now written you a history of your own county, to show you the advantages of civilization, and to give you contentment. It is a "home-span" book written by a "home-span" author.

The state of society which I have depicted is fast fading from the memory of men, and will soon live only in history. You come upon the scenes of life at an eventful and glorious age of the world, when the opportunities for individual progress are so hopeful. We are the citizens of a common country, and share an undivided interest in her weal or woe; and it may be well for us to look back to the past, on the bright side of misfortune; but we must trust to the future, "Though gloomy and cheerless, Prowls the dark past like a ghost at our back."

We have lived in the shadow of the gray hairs of our fathers. They have battled long and well to give us a country to live in, and we are the rich inheritors of all the glorious results of their self-denial and patriotic devotion. Let us prove ourselves worthy of the high destiny for which they offered themselves a sacrifice to common dangers