

HEROES OF OUR INDIAN
EMPIRE. VOLUME II

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649601882

Heroes of Our Indian Empire. Volume II by Henry Morris

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

HENRY MORRIS

HEROES OF OUR INDIAN
EMPIRE. VOLUME II

Ch. Grant

CHARLES GRANT.

Heroes
OF OUR
Indian Empire

VOLUME II.

BY

HENRY MORRIS,

Indian Civil Service, Retired,

Author of The Life of Charles Grant; The Life of John Murdoch; The Governors-General of India; etc.

LONDON:

THE CHRISTIAN LITERATURE SOCIETY FOR INDIA
9, DUKE STREET, ADELPHI

1908

All Rights Reserved

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER X.

CHARLES GRANT :

The Friend of Wilberforce.

A.D. 1746 TO 1823.

Description of Clapham at the close of the eighteenth century—Thornton's house—Scene in the Oval Library—Birth of Charles Grant—Weird scene at his baptism—Battle of Culloden—Grant's father a fugitive—Quits the country—Death in Havanna—Mother left badly off—Her death—Kindness of John Grant—Grant at school in Elgin—Apprenticed to Forsyth at Cromartie—Goes to London as clerk in a cousin's house—Sent to Calcutta—Affectionate letter to his uncle—Employed by Richard Becher—Appalling famine in Bengal—Return to England—Marriage—Obtains a Writership—Voyage to Bombay—Fatal duel between Fergusson and Roche at the Cape—Reaches Calcutta—Secretary to the Board of Trade—Dissensions in Calcutta society—Death of his brother and uncle—Loss of two children—Desolation—Conversion—John Shore—William Chambers—Correspondence with Schwartz—Financial difficulties—

Generosity of his brother Robert—Resident of Malda—Description of Malda—Indigo factory at Gumalti—Visit of Sir W. and Lady Jones—Family party at Malda—The Old Pilgrim—Birth of his sons—Contract for investments—Lord Cornwallis arrives as Governor-General—Sends for the accounts of Malda—Interview between him and Grant—The latter appointed member of the Board of Trade—Regret at leaving Malda—Purchase of the House of Prayer—Mission at Gumalti—Proposal for a Mission to Bengal—Letters regarding it to Wilberforce, Simeon, and others—Difficulties in his work in Calcutta—Return to England—Makes the acquaintance of Wilberforce and Thornton—Gives help in the cause of freeing slaves—Interests Wilberforce in India—Meetings to found a Mission—Foundation of the Church Missionary Society—Consulted by Pitt and Dundas on Indian affairs—Drafts the reply of the Court about the Permanent Settlement in Bengal—"Observations on the State of Society among the Asiatic Subjects of Great Britain"—Printed by Order of the House of Commons—Renewal of the Company's Charter—Proposed Resolutions rejected—Elected a Director of the Company—Power in the India House—Some Clapham friends—Enters Parliament as Member for Inverness-shire—Opposition to Lord Wellesley's policy—Foundation of Haileybury College—Appointment of Chaplains—Another renewal of the Company's Charter—The pious Resolutions passed—Appointment of a Bishop to Calcutta—Permission for missionaries to enter British India—Retirement from the House of Commons—Services rendered to Inverness-shire and the Highlands generally—Evening of life—Sudden death—Character of Grant—Services done for India—The cause of India advocated in Leadenhall Street and in Parliament .. .. . pages 1-48

CHAPTER XI.

SIR WILLIAM JONES :
The Learned Oriental Scholar.

A.D. 1746 TO 1794.

Foremost Oriental scholar of his day—Birth—Early death of his father—Care bestowed on him by his mother—Sent to Harrow—Diligence at School—Early acquisition of Arabic and Hebrew—Enters University College, Oxford—Obtains a scholarship—Becomes tutor to Lord Althorp—Translates a history of Nadir Shah for the King of Denmark—Made a member of the Royal Academy of Copenhagen—Takes his M.A. degree at Oxford—Becomes a Fellow of the Royal Society of England—Enters the Temple, and studies law—Sacrifices his Oriental studies for the study and practice of law—Death of his mother—Becomes a candidate for representing the University of Oxford in Parliament—Withdrawal from the candidature—Writes an Essay on Bailments—Severe practice in Westminster Hall—Resumes his Oriental studies—Appointed a Puisne Judge at Calcutta—Marriage—Departure from England—Studies on the voyage—First charge to the grand jury—Foundation of the Asiatic Society of Bengal—Warren Hastings declines to be President—Sir William Jones appointed President—"Asiatic Researches"—Copy presented to George the Third—Study of Sanskrit—Translation of "Sakuntala"—"Laws of Manu"—Journey to Benares—Illness on the way—Residence at Krishnagar—Delicate health of Lady Jones—Contentment with his position—Occupation during the sittings of the Court—Proposal for a Digest of Hindu and Muhammadan law—Letter on the subject to Lord Cornwallis—Permission to prepare it granted—Opinion of Warren Hastings's character—Anticipation of retirement—Return of Sir John Shore to Calcutta—Welcomed by Jones—Lady Jones returns to England—Low spirits felt on this account—Letter to Shore—Illness and death—Shore with him at the time—Genius of Sir William—His great modesty—Lines on the subject—Abstract of his daily studies in one vacation—Revised version of Sir Edward Coke's lines—Character as a Judge—Tenderness to the animal creation—Sir William's faith and devotion as a Christian—Love for Holy Scripture—Christian evidences—Letter from Lady Jones regarding his piety—Testimony to the truth and sublimity of the Bible as compared with other sacred books—List of languages known to him—Large staff of Indian scholars and teachers kept by him—Reference to Bible translation—William Carey—Sincere desire for the good of mankind . . . . . pages 51-80

CHAPTER XII.

REGINALD HEBER :

The Missionary Bishop.

A.D. 1783 TO 1826.

Birth and infancy—Early trust in God—School days—Friendship with John Thornton—Pleasure in reading—Enters the University of Oxford—Gains the prize for English verse—Anecdote about a passage in the poem—Death of his father—Tour through the Continent of Europe—Becomes a Fellow of All Souls' College—Takes holy orders and becomes Rector of Hodnet—Diligence in visiting the sick—Generosity—

CHAPTER XIII.

SIR ARTHUR COTTON :

Engineer and Philanthropist.

A.D. 1803 TO 1899.

Scriptural description of a godly man—Benefits conferred on South India by Sir Arthur Cotton—Birth and early years—Education at Addiscombe and Chatham—Arrival at Madras—Assistant Engineer—Service in the Burma War—Horror of gambling—Conversion—Return to England on sick certificate—Second return—Journey through the Holy Land—Damascus to Baghdad—Friendship with Michael Trad—Illness at Bushire—Providential recovery—Voyage from Bushire to Bombay—Irrigation works on the Kavari—Trips to Tasmania—Marriage—Civil Engineer of Tanjore—First idea of an annicut—Description of the Kavari and the Coleroon—Indian annicut—Temporary dams—First Report on the annicuts—Unseemly disputes about irrigation—Construction of the two annicuts—Increase of revenue—Civil Engineer of the first division—Sad condition of the Rajahmundry district—Proposal for an annicut across the Godavery—Commencement of work at Dowlaiswaram—Description of the annicut—Hard work—Leave to England—Committee to report on the enterprise and the expense—Conclusion of the building of the annicut—Remarks on its completion—Services of an Indian engineer—Subsidiary works—The Gannaram aqueduct—Navigable canals—Division of the irrigated districts—Chief Engineer of the Presidency—Increase in revenue of the Godavery district—The vast improvement of the district—Mr. Walch's testimony—The Kistna annicut and other works