TO
LIEUT.-GEN. L'OLIVIER,

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE CAMP OF BEVERLOO.

LONDON, Sept. 8th, 1852.

MON GÉNÉRAL,

PERMIT me, with every sentiment of respect and esteem, to dedicate to you, as Commander-in-Chief, and to the General Officers, Staff, and other Officers serving under your orders, the following brief and imperfect narrative of my visit to your Camp, during the latter period of the Manceuvres of 1852; and, at the same time, to express my high sense of the hospitable kindness with which I was received, as well as of the courtesy which enabled me to avail myself (as far as the very limited time left at my disposal, previous to my departure for the East, would allow,) of the advantage of all the practical instruction so admirably organized, so ably carried out under your orders, and so liberally and courteously explained, even to a stranger like myself, at the Camp of Beverloo.

I beg your permission to subscribe myself,

In all sincerity and gratitude,

Your attached and faithful servant,

H. B. HARVEY, MAJOR,

*M.D. Secy. to Lieut.-Gen. Rt. Hon. Lord F. Fitzclarence, G.C.H.
Commander-in-Chief of Bombay.*
