TO
WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS.

DEAR MR. HOWELLS, — I think I can never forget that delightful September day when I sat, with you, in your charming summer home at Nahant, and unfolded the plan of the simple story contained in these pages. To your kind encouragement and suggestions then given is due, in large degree, whatever measure of literary success may be claimed for this work. In gratitude for this kindness, therefore, as well as in admiration for your own qualities as a man of letters, I beg leave to inscribe to you this book; and remain

Yours, with regard and esteem,

E. J. CARPENTER.
