"The practical and popular expositions of the Scriptures contained in this volume have been but slightly altered in form from that in which they were delivered to the audiences constituting the Popular Bible Classes. The aim of these expositions was to popularize Bible study—to make it not only authoritative in teaching, but interesting in presentation. That this aim has been realized is evident from the fact that at seven o'clock each Friday night, from one thousand to fifteen hundred people have met together for this form of Bible study."—Preface.

Preface

THIS volume is the first in the New Testament series of Expositions of the Bible. It aims, as will the other volumes, to give the reader a popular, practical, and synthetic presentation of the contents of the New Testament as set forth in the four Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles.

All of the Gospels have not been dealt with alike. Matthew, as representing the synoptists, and John, as the antopic Gospel, have been dealt with somewhat in detail. Mark and Luke have been treated in a general way, that only which is peculiar to Mark and Luke being particularly emphasized in the treatment of their records.

The great spiritual need of to-day is the presentation of the contents of the Bible in such a manner as will interest not only the ministry, but also Christian laymen. To accomplish this purpose is the aim of these volumes on the Popular and Practical Expositions of the Old and New Testaments.

These Expositions of the Scripture have been tried and taught with success both in the class room and in large popular Bible classes, some of them numbering two thousand in attendance.

It is with the earnest prayer that God may use these Expositions for the spread of the knowledge of the Word of God that they are now sent forth on their ministry, which we trust will be a useful and blessed one.
