NOTICE.

In this catalogue, I offer for public competition my Type Table of the United States Dollars, Half Dollars and Quarter Dollars, correctly described as to variety and condition. In many of the varieties in the Type Table, I have met with but a single specimen, and in that case they are termed excessively rare. Particular attention has been directed to the varieties of the early dates, and it is perhaps unnecessary to state that I have no doubt quite a number of varieties will be found in the higher dates, such as the different mints and positions of figures in dates; to the latter I have not given close attention, as they are put in the die with a punch. Before deciding to sell my Type Table at auction, I had disposed of a number of the rare varieties. In order that the list may appear more uniform, I have added those in an addenda (as not being for sale) at the end of the catalogue, together with those that I have not owned, but which I have seen in other collections. I have purposely omitted pattern pieces from the list of the regular series in the Type Table, with the exception of the 1836 Dollar and the Morgan 1878 standard Dollar. At a future time, if I should decide to issue a work upon this subject, each variety will be given a name to more easily distinguish it, and plates be given of those pieces that have but slight differences, in order that collectors could more readily determine them.

Particular attention is also called to the very rare Goloid Metric Pieces; the collection of fine Jacksonian Tokens (1834 to 1838); United States and Foreign Gold Coins; United States and Foreign Silver Medals; Confederate Bonds; Cents and Half Cents, &c. Among the rarer pieces are the following Dollars: Nos. 82, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 92, 96, 97, 98, 100, 101, 104, 109, 115, 116, 117, 118, 124, 129, 142, 144, 147, 148, 149, 151, 152, 154, 155, 156, 158, 159, 170, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 236; Half Dollars of 1794: Nos. 654, 655, 656, 657, and 958; Half Dollars of 1795: Nos. 664; 666, 667, 670, 671, 672, 675, 676 (probably unique), 677, 678, 679, 681, 683, 687 (probably unique), 689 (probably unique), 690 (probably unique); other Half Dollars: Nos. 691, 693, 694, 699, 701, 707, 709, 711, 713, 714, 715, 719, 720, 721, 726, 727, 1298, 1331, 1390a, 1484, 1490, and many others too numerous to mention.

Hoping that my numismatic friends will be pleased with this catalogue and will give me their generous support, I remain,

Yours, very respectfully,

JOHN W. HASELTINE.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. This is crucial for ensuring transparency and accountability in the organization's operations. It also highlights the need for regular audits and reviews to identify any discrepancies or areas for improvement.

The second part of the document outlines the various roles and responsibilities of the staff members involved in the project. Each role is clearly defined, and the specific tasks to be performed are listed. This ensures that everyone is on the same page and working towards the same goals.

The third part of the document provides a detailed timeline of the project, showing the start and end dates for each phase. This helps to manage expectations and ensures that the project is completed on time. It also identifies any potential risks or challenges that may arise and provides strategies to mitigate them.

The fourth part of the document discusses the budget and financial aspects of the project. It provides a breakdown of the costs involved and identifies the sources of funding. This is essential for ensuring that the project is financially viable and that all expenses are accounted for.

The fifth part of the document outlines the communication plan for the project. It identifies the key stakeholders and the channels through which they will be kept informed. This ensures that everyone is kept up to date on the progress of the project and any changes that may be required.

The sixth part of the document provides a summary of the project and its objectives. It also includes a list of the key deliverables and a final conclusion. This provides a clear overview of the project and its outcomes.

In conclusion, this document provides a comprehensive overview of the project and its various aspects. It is essential for ensuring that the project is managed effectively and that all stakeholders are kept informed. It also provides a clear framework for the project and a list of the tasks to be performed. This document is a key tool for project management and is essential for the success of the project.
