SECRETARY'S REPORT TO THE GOVERNOR.

Hamline, Minn., Dec. 10, 1910.

To His Excellency, Adolph O. Eberhart, Governor of Minnesota,

Honored Sir: As required by Section No. 3083, Revised Laws of 1905, I hand you berewith a detailed Financial Report of the Minnesota State Agricultural Society, for the fiscal year beginning Dec. 11, 1909, and ending Dec. 10, 1910. Also, a detailed Inventory of the property belonging to the State of Minnesota in the possession of said society.

You will see by the financial report that our cash receipts were larger than ever before. This was to a certain extent accounted for by the fact that the Board took a decided step forward this year by eliminating all passes. As a matter of fact, there was not a pass printed; consequently, the total paid admissions were some 45,000 more than ever before. The total paid admissions for the year 1910 were 318,264. Aside from this, there were 4,159 "buttons" issued to actual employes of the Society and exhibitors; each of these buttons was good for admission at any time. The buttons were not transferable and were attached to the wearing apparel of the persons to whom they were issued, which practically made it impossible to transfer them. In addition to the buttons, there were 2,429 helpers' tickets issued, each good for a single admission. The Board of Managers are well pleased with the result of this new departure, and so was, for the most part, the public.

The net profit of the 1910 Fair, in round figures, is $86,000.00, about $30,000.00 of which is still in the hands of the Treasurer. The balance has already been expended in permanent improvements.

The Board this year endeavored to make the 1910 Fair more of an educational institution than ever before; in view of this fact, many new departments were added and the premiums advanced. The Agricultural and Floricultural exhibits were both more than double the size of anything ever before exhibited on the grounds; and, to accommodate the ten Agricultural Schools which were established in 1908, an "Annex" was erected to the Agricultural Building, in which nine schools made excellent exhibits. In the Woman's Building were also four comprehensive school exhibits. The main floor of the Grandstand was well filled with liberal arts exhibits, about equally divided between the Twin Cities and the smaller cities of the state. The old "Main Building" was turned over entirely to agriculture. There was not a department on the grounds but would have used more space had it been available.

This Society has grown so rapidly during the past twenty-five years that it would almost seem that the time had now come to proceed along new iines. The state of New York has appropriated $2,000,000.00 to be expended in four years, in putting up new equipment for their State Fair; the President and many of the Board of Managers of this institution have expressed the wish that the Legislature would appoint a large committee to come out to the grounds and spend a few days looking it over thoroughly and inquiring into the needs and necessities of this institution. They think that $2,000,000.00 appropriated now, to be available during the next eight or ten years, would be a wise step. All the old buildings that were erected twenty-five years ago, are now entirely too small—even if they were in good condition—for the purpose for which they were made. If the Board knew the amount of money they were to have each year for the next eight or ten years, they could expend their net earnings, each year, much more advantageously.

If you could see your way clear to make some such recommendation in your message, it would appreciated by the board and that you may better understand the situation, I mention the following needed improvements:

(1)	Roof on grandstand	$40,000.00
(2)	Woman's building	50,000,00
(3)	Barn for "Dairy" cattle	100,000.00
(4)	Barn for "Beef" cattle	100,000.00
(5)	Hog barn	50,000.00
(6)	Barn for horses	150,000.00
(7)	Public service building, (in which would be located the Administration offices, newspapers of the Twin Cities and country, post office, telegraph and telephone offices, etc.)	100,000.00
(8)	Agricultural building costing not less than	150,000.00
(9)	Addition to machinery hall (one wing of which has already been built)	100,000.00
(10)	Horticultural building	50,000.00
(11)	Floricultural and greenhouse equipment	50,000.00
(12)	Hospital and baby nursery	25,000.00
(13)	Liberal Arts building	250,000.00
(14)	Electrical building	100,000.00
(15)	Dining-rooms and concession rooms of various kinds.	50,000.00
(16)	Additional sewers and toilets, not less than	100,000.00
(17)	For grading, walks, macadamizing roads, planting shrub-
	bery, etc.	200,000.00
(18)	State Institutions building	75,000.00
(19)	Intra-mural railway	100,000.00
(20)	Mines and Mining building	50,000.00
(21)	Fish and Game building	50,000.00
(22)	Addition to Grandstand	200,000.00
	Water	#0 14A 000 00

Now these improvements enumerated above are either needed at once or will be before the eight years covered by the proposed appropriation expire. In addition to the above, there are numerous other improvements which will be needed, such as:—

Freight terminals and trackage.

New depot at street-car loop.

New Police building.

Parcel check rooms.

Bandstands, etc.

These could be built out of the surplus from year to year while the larger projects were being carried out with the money furnished by the state.

At the end of the eight years, the law could require "That all money received over and above running expenses for the year, should be turned over to the State of Minnesota as a revenue."

These figures may, at first sight, seem large to you and the public, but the property on exhibition and the people in attendance at the Fair must be safeguarded. This can only be effected by absolutely fireproof cement and steel buildings. The growth of this institution in the last decade prompts us to seek to make provision for its growth in the future, and in view of these considerations the figures are none too large.

The Grandstand, for which the Legislature appropriated $200,000.00 at their last session, was built at an expense of $280,000.00 and it will take $40,000 00 more to complete the roof, and this is something that is almost imperative. The $200,000.00 mentioned above, "addition to the grandstand," would extend the present grandstand East, where the oldest bleachers now are, about three bays or 162 feet. This is not the most urgent of the proposed improvements, but it will surely be needed long before the eight or ten years have gone by as the bleachers are now in a condition to require a great deal of repairing each year—as in fact do all the buildings outside of the Grandstand, Live Stock Amphitheater, Manufacturers' Building, and Dairy and Poultry Buildings.

It is a commonly accepted fact that the Minnesota State Fair is doing as much or more, annually, to advertise the great State of Minnesota, and at the same time to educate its own citizens as to the resources of the state and how to get the most out of them, than any other institution in the state.

I need not inform you that the attendance of this Fair is nearly double that of any other in the United States; and at the same time, it is the belief of the Board of Managers and of the public, generally, that this might be doubled had we the equipment to make a proper display and to care for the exhibits and our patrons after they arrive on the grounds.

It is the desire of our Board this year to have the Annual Report printed and ready for distribution January 1, 1911. I therefore hope it will be convenient for your Board of Auditors to examine our books at once, ow we may have their report to print in our annual, together with the reports of the Public Examiner and the various Superintendents, in addition to the matter herewith transmitted to you.

Very respectfully yours,

C. N. COSGROVE,

Secretary.
