

THE HISTORY OF GREECE

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649603954

The History of Greece by Dr. Goldsmith

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

DR. GOLDSMITH

THE HISTORY OF GREECE

THE HISTORY OF GREECE.

Oliver BY DR. GOLDSMITH.

Abridged.

CHISWICK:

PRINTED BY C. AND C. WHITTINGHAM,

SOLD BY THOMAS TEGG, 73, CHEAPSIDE;

N. HAILES, PICCADILLY;

BOWDERY AND KIRBY, OXFORD STREET, LONDON:

AND RICHARD GRIFFIN AND CO. GLASGOW.

1826.

G U

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I.

	Page
Of the earliest state of Greece. Argos, Athens, and Sparta founded. The Heraclidae. Cecrops. Codrus. Helena, Menelaus. Paris. Œdipus. Jocasta. Periander. Cadmus invents the Greek alphabet. . . . .	1

CHAPTER II.

Of the government of Sparta, and the laws of Lycurgus. The Helots. The Ephori. Equal division of lands. Iron money introduced. Public meals. Black broth. Education of youth. Deformed children exposed to perish. . . . .	4
--	---

CHAPTER III.

Of the government of Athens, the laws of Solon, and the history of the republic, from the time of Solon to the commencement of the Persian war. Draco's laws. The seven wise men of Greece. Croesus king of Lydia. Abolition of debts. Division of the people into four classes. The court of Areopagus. Pisistratus. Hippias and Hipparchus. Harmodius and Aristogiton. . . . .	13
--	----

CHAPTER IV.

Hippias dethroned and banished. Ostracism. The Persians invade Greece. Miltiades. Themistocles. Aristides. Battle of Marathon. Death of Miltiades. . . . .	19
--	----

CHAPTER V.

Xerxes invades Greece with a numerous fleet and an immense army. Leonidas opposes him with a handful of men, at the Straits of Thermopylæ. Gloriously falls, in the defence of his country.
---	--

	Page
Themistocles chosen generalissimo of the Greek forces. Athens abandoned, and sacked by the Persians. Battle of Salamis. Xerxes retreats out of Greece. . . . .	27
CHAPTER VI.
Mardonius, the Persian general, who was left behind with an army of three hundred thousand men, endeavours to corrupt the Athenians, but in vain. Ravages Attica. Is defeated at Plataea. Sea-fight at Mycale . . . . .	39
CHAPTER VII.
Athens rebuilt. Aristides receives the surname of Just. Pausanias starved to death. Themistocles obliged to abandon his country, and take refuge with the king of Persia. Puts an end to his own life by poison, rather than bear arms against the place of his nativity. Death and character of Aristides. Cimon, the son of Miltiades. Desperate conduct of Boges. Cimon defeats the Persians both by sea and land on the same day. Simonides, the poet . . . . .	44
CHAPTER VIII.
Pericles; his great eloquence. War between the Athenians and Lacedæmonians. Battle of Tan-gara. Death of Cimon. Pericles adorns the city of Athens with public buildings, the remains of some of which are still to be seen. The Peloponnesian war. Battle of Potidæa. Socrates saves the life of Alcibiades. Aspasia the mistress of Pericles. That general pronounces his famous funeral oration. A terrible plague at Athens. Pericles dies of the plague. Plataea besieged by the Lacedæmonians. Gallant defence made by the inhabitants. Part of them escape in a most surprising manner. The place taken, and all the men found in it put to death. Cleon defeats the Lacedæmonians in the island of Sphacteria. Brasidas, the Lacedæmonian general, killed in a sally. Gallant answer of his mother upon receiving the news of his death. The peace of Nicias. . . . .	51

CHAPTER IX.

Alcibiades foments a war between the Athenians and Lacedæmonians. (The Athenians attempt the reduction of Sicily. History of Syracuse, the capital of that island. Alcibiades condemned to death for refusing to return home in obedience to the commands of his countrymen. Syracuse besieged by the Athenians under Nicias. Gylippus, the Lacedæmonian general, comes to the aid of the Syracusans. Is defeated by Nicias. Defeats that general in his turn. Nicias receives a reinforcement from Athens under the conduct of Demosthenes, an ancestor of the famous orator of the same name. The Athenians attack the fort of Epipolæ. Are repulsed with great slaughter. Resolve to abandon the island. Delay their departure on account of an eclipse of the moon. Attempt to escape by sea. Prevented by the enemy. Begin their march by land. Lose their way in the night, and separate into two bodies. One of these attacked, and made prisoners. The other likewise attacked. Most of them cut in pieces. The rest taken prisoners. The common men thrown into dungeons. Nicias and Demosthenes put to death. The government of Athens altered. Alcibiades recalled. His great success. Opposed by Lysander, the Spartan. Disgraced, and succeeded by Conon. Battle of Ægos Potamos. End of the Peloponnesian war. Character of Homer, Hesiod, Æschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, Aristophanes, Herodotus, and Thucydides.

Page

66

CHAPTER X.

The thirty tyrants. Death of Alcibiades. The tyrants destroyed, and Athens restored to its liberty by Thrasybulus. Expedition of Cyrus, who engages in his service a body of Greeks. He is defeated by his brother Artaxerxes. Famous retreat of the ten thousand Greeks. Socrates. His character. His trial. His speech on the occasion. Condemned to death. Behaviour after condemnation. Dies by drinking the juice of hemlock. The Athenians repent. Put Me-litus, his chief accuser, to death. Finish the rest.

	Page
Erect a statue of brass to his memory; and dedicate a chapel to him as to a hero and demi-god.	102

CHAPTER XI.

Agesilans, king of Sparta, defeats Tissaphernes. Battle of Coronæ. The Spartans subdue several of the petty states of Greece. Place a garrison in Thebes. The garrison expelled, and Thebes restored to its liberty by Pelopidas. Extraordinary stratagem of Chabrias. Battle of Tegyra. Sacred band of Thebes. Epaminondas; his character. Battle of Leuctra. Pelopidas slain in the battle of Cynocephalos. Epaminondas attacks the city of Sparta, but is repulsed. Gallant conduct of Isidas. Battle of Mantinea. Epaminondas mortally wounded. Expires in the arms of victory. Expedition of Agesilans into Egypt. His character. Extravagant passion of the Athenians for the stage. . . . .	133
---	-----

CHAPTER XII.

History of Macedon. Philip begins his reign. Had been educated at Thebes under Epaminondas. Forms the famous Macedonian phalanx. Defeats the Athenians at Methone. Farther progress of his arms. Answer given him by the oracle of Delphos. The sacred war. Birth of Alexander the Great. Aristotle appointed his preceptor. Demosthenes the orator. Philip chosen a member of the Amphictyonic council. Performs a signal act of justice. Phocion; his character. Speech of Demosthenes against Philip. Another speech of his against the same prince. Battle of Chæronea. Diogenes' reply to Philip. Famous contest of eloquence between Æschines and Demosthenes. Philip's domestic uneasiness occasioned by the bad temper of his queen Olympias. Attempts to stab his son Alexander. Is himself assassinated by Pausanias. . . . .	152
--	-----

CHAPTER XIII.

Anecdotes of Alexander the Great. His ambition. The early maturity of his judgment. His edu-
---	--

           cation. His rage for his master. His veneration for Homer. His passion for literature. His management of the horse Bucephalus. Razes Thebes to the ground. Sparing the descendants of Pindar. Demosthenes's fable of the wolves and dogs. Alexander chosen generalissimo of the Greek forces. Diogenes' answer to him. Consults the oracle of Delphos. Distributes all his revenues among his friends. Reserves for himself hope only . . . . .         	181
--	-----

CHAPTER XIV.

           Alexander sets out on his expedition into Asia. Crosses the Hellespont. Gains the battle of Issus. His answer to Ada, queen of Caria. Unties the Gordian knot. Bathes in the Cydnus. Is seized with a fever. His magnanimity on that occasion. Defeats Darius in the battle of Issus. Is wounded in the thigh. Takes Darius's wife and mother prisoners. His noble behaviour to those captives. Abdolonymus raised to the throne of Sidon. Alexander reduces Tyre. Goes to Jerusalem. Is met by the high priest. Marches into Egypt. Builds Alexandria. Defeats Darius in the battle of Arbela. Burns the palace of Persepolis, at the instigation of Thais. Finds the dead body of Darius, who had been murdered by his own officers. Sends it to his mother, Syngambis, in order to be interred. Dreadful fate of Bessus. Alexander's cruelty to Parmenio, and his son Philotas. Kills Clitus. Marries Roxana. Marches into India. Is opposed by Porus. Defeats him. Receives him into favour. His soldiers refuse to follow him any further. Resolves to return into Persia. Attacks the capital of the Oxydraci. His bravery on that occasion. Arrives at Susa. Marries Statira. Enters Babylon. Abandons himself to intemperance. Is seized with a fever. His last words. His death and character . . . . .         	192
---	-----

CHAPTER XV.

The Grecian states form a confederacy against Antipater, governor of Macedon. Glorious end of

	Page
Agis, king of Sparta. Demosthenes banished ; recalled. Antipater obtains the appellation of Father and protector of Greece ; dies : is succeeded by Polyperchon. . . . .	236
CHAPTER XVI.
Alexander is succeeded by his only brother, Arrid-mus ; but his captains usurp supreme power in the provinces they govern, and soon after assume the title of kings. Statira murdered by Roxana. Perdicas marches into Egypt against Ptolemy. Olympias recalled to Macedon. Antigonus, king of Syria ; his great power. A combination formed against him ; falls in battle . . . . .	243
CHAPTER XVII.
Cassander, king of Macedon. Democratic form of government restored in Greece. Death of Phœon. Cruelty of Olympias. Demetrius Phalereus made governor of Athens ; honours paid him. Death of Olympias . . . . .	248
CHAPTER XVIII.
The Gauls invade Greece ; stop at the Straits of Thermopylæ ; repulsed at the temple of Delphi. Stratagems employed against them. Heroic behaviour of the Spartan women. The Actæan league. . . . .	253
CHAPTER XIX.
Death of Agis, king of Sparta. Philip, the last king of Macedon of that name, makes a league with Hannibal. The Romans get a footing in Greece ; enter into a treaty with the Ætoli-ans ; reduce the power of Philip to the lowest ebb ; grant him a peace. . . . .	259
CHAPTER XX.
The Romans, under pretence of defending the public liberty, invade Greece ; defeat the kings of Syria and Macedon ; make themselves masters of the whole country ; form it into a province. The Greeks, though deprived of their liberty, still retain their genius ; civilize and enlighten mankind. 263	263