

LIFE OF COLONEL
JACK. IN TWO
VOLUMES. VOL. I

Published @ 2017 Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd

ISBN 9780649176960

Life of Colonel Jack. In Two Volumes. Vol. I by Daniel Defoe

Except for use in any review, the reproduction or utilisation of this work in whole or in part in any form by any electronic, mechanical or other means, now known or hereafter invented, including xerography, photocopying and recording, or in any information storage or retrieval system, is forbidden without the permission of the publisher, Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd, PO Box 1576 Collingwood, Victoria 3066 Australia.

All rights reserved.

Edited by Trieste Publishing Pty Ltd.
Cover @ 2017

This book is sold subject to the condition that it shall not, by way of trade or otherwise, be lent, re-sold, hired out, or otherwise circulated without the publisher's prior consent in any form or binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition including this condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

www.triestepublishing.com

DANIEL DEFOE

LIFE OF COLONEL
JACK. IN TWO
VOLUMES. VOL. I

E. Deane 118

LIFE
OF COLONEL JACK.

IN TWO VOLUMES.

VOL. I.

EDINBURGH:

Printed by James Ballantyne and Co.
FOR JOHN BALLANTYNE AND CO. AND BROWN
AND CROMBIE, EDINBURGH;
LONGMAN, HURST, REES, AND ORME, AND JOHN MURRAY, LONDON.

1810.

823
D3600
1810
v.1

7200-15

CONTENTS.

LIFE OF COLONEL JACK.

CHAP. I.

Introduction—I am deserted by my parents, almost as soon as born—Nicknamed by my nurse Colonel Jack—Characters of the three Jacks, Colonel Jack, Captain Jack, and Major Jack—Nurse dies, and we are turned loose upon the world—Captain Jack flogged for roguery—We pick pockets.....1

CHAP. II.

I get acquainted with one of the most noted pickpockets in town—We steal a letter-case full of bills—Dreadfully distressed how to dispose of my share of the booty—My comrade proposes I shall return the bills and get the reward promised—Proceedings thereupon25

Ms. No. Secord 20765.07

CHAP. III.

I am examined by the gentlemen touching the bills and letter-case, and obtain the reward of 30*l.*—One of them kindly takes charge of the money for me—We commit more thefts—My comrade purchases better clothes for me—I rob a few of his pocket-book, full of bills and diamonds—Will agrees for a reward to give up the property.....50

CHAP. IV.

Will returns the pocket-book, and obtains the reward—We rob an old knight in Smithfield of a bag of money—Other adventures, in all of which we are successful—The notion of my being a gentleman, which I always entertain, keeps me from swearing, drinking, and such like vices—Will seduces me to become highwayman—Adventures on the road.....77

CHAP. V.

My new profession very hateful to me—Will is in great danger of being taken for a housebreaking at Hounslow—He leaves his plunder under my bed—I meet with him by accident, and receive his directions how to dispose of the stolen goods—I meet Captain Jack, who informs me Will is committed to Newgate—I pay a visit to my old friend mentioned in the third chapter—Conversation with him—I am apprehended—Consequences thereof.....104

CHAP. VI.

I visit Will, my tutor in wickedness, in Newgate—He is executed—Captain Jack proposes to me to fly into Scotland—I return a poor old woman the money I had formerly robbed her of—Captain Jack and I set out on our journey north—The Captain's roguerles, and various adventures on the road..... 130

CHAP. VII.

Further adventures—There is no preventing my comrade from exercising his trade of a thief—We witness a whipping in Edinburgh—The Captain takes French leave—I return my horse to the person from whom it was stolen—Learn to read and write—I am hired and cheated by a Scotch master—Meet with the Captain again—I enlist for a soldier—We desert—Adventures thereupon..... 153

CHAP. VIII.

We are kidnapped, and carried on board ship by a Virginia captain—Make the coast of Virginia in 42 days—Captain Jack makes his escape—A peep into futurity—I am sold along with the others to a rich planter—My master holds a long conversation with me, and, in consequence of my good behaviour, puts me in a place of trust..... 181

CHAP. IX.

I stumble at the threshold of my new office—I study to render the negroes obedient without punishment, and succeed—Our master visits the plantation—Conversation with him—I gain his good graces more and more—Fidelity of a negro..... 207

CHAP. X.

My master gives me my liberty, and puts me into a plantation for myself—Proceedings as a planter—I get my bill cashed in London, and a sorted parcel of goods sent out for its amount—The greatest part of them are lost at the mouth of the bay—Reflections..... 239

PREFACE

TO THE

LIFE OF COLONEL JACK.

PREFACES are so customary before books of this nature, to introduce them into the world by a display of their excellencies, that it might be thought too presuming to send this performance abroad, without some such preliminary. And yet I may venture to say, it needs this good office as little as any that has ever gone before it. The pleasant and delightful part speaks for itself; the useful and instructive is so large, and has such a tendency to improve the mind, and rectify the manners, that it would employ a volume, large as itself, to particularize the instructions that may be drawn from it.