PREFACE.

THE nature of this Work is fully explained in the title-page. It is "a descriptive, illustrated, and priced CATALOGUE of APPARATUS suitable for the performance of Elementary Experiments in Physics." The present volume contains the subjects of Mechanics, Hydrostatics, Hydrodynamics, and Pneumatics. If it meets with public approval, companion volumes will be published on Acoustics, Heat, Light, Electricity, Magnetism, and Galvanism. These works will be strictly practical. They will avoid theoretical disquisitions, and will relate to Apparatus and Experiments only, and especially to apparatus of a cheap character, and to experiments suitable for elementary instruction.

Nearly all the Instruments and Experiments described in this volume have been made in the workshops of the Publishers, and tried in the presence of the Editor; and the figures and descriptions have been drawn to agree with the Instruments that had been submitted to these special trials.

JOHN J. GRIFFIN.

ADVERTISEMENT.

THE Instruments described in this Work are offered for sale at the prices affixed to each. These prices are nett, for ready money. The expense of packing-cases and packing-materials is charged to purchasers. We employ very careful and experienced persons to pack the instruments securely; but we do not hold ourselves responsible for any breakage that may take place during the carriage of the goods from our manufactory to their places of destination. The packing-cases and packing-materials are charged at the lowest possible price, and we are compelled to intimate that we cannot take them back, nor allow their value to be deducted from our bills.

Orders from strangers in the country must be accompanied by a REMITTANCE, or by a reference to some person in London. Post-office orders are to be made payable at CHANCING CROSS. Sums under 5s. may be remitted in postage stamps.

Foreign orders must either be accompanied by a remittance, or by instructions for payment in London, on delivery of the bills of lading, without which payment the orders cannot be executed. A large stock of the apparatus described in this work, both British and Foreign, being kept ready for immediate delivery, shipping orders for comprehensive collections can be executed with promptitude.

Such articles in this catalogue as are subject to frequent variations in price are at all times charged according to the lowest market value. The present prices supersede all those in catalogues of earlier date.
